How to use this workbook

Print on regular paper, in color or black and white. For home or your own classroom.

One page at a time

Short and regular beats long. One letter a day is plenty for most preschoolers.

Follow the green dot

The green dot shows where to start. Say the letter sound as your child traces.

Praise the effort

Wobbly lines are normal at this age. Trying again matters more than staying on the line.

Make it last

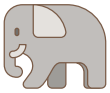

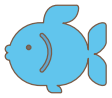

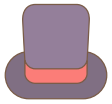

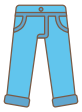

Slide pages into a sheet protector and use dry-erase markers to practice again.

Letters are drawn in a simple ball-and-stick print style. Holding a pencil takes time, so go at your child's pace.
